Integrity

The Chestnut Charter

Here at Chestnut Vets we value the trust that you place in us when you choose our practice, and we never take your custom for granted.

We promise that we will always focus on:

Integrity

As an independent practice with traditional values, our primary concern is for the welfare of the pets we care for. Unlike some other practices, we have no corporate shareholders to satisfy, no financial targets to meet and offer no sales incentives to our staff.

You can be sure that we will only ever act in the best interests of you and your pet.

Community

We are proud of our strong reputation in the local area - Chestnut Vets has cared for the pets of the Hertford and Ware community for over a century. Our team pay regular visits to local schools in order to help educate the next generation in the joys and responsibilities of pet ownership.

The best for your pet

The best for you

The best for you

- We offer 24-hour access to emergency care. During the week this is by our own vets at our Hoe Lane site, at weekends and bank holidays this is provided by the Queen Mother Hospital at the Royal Veterinary College, one of the leading veterinary hospitals in Europe.
- Your vet or nurse will discuss all available treatment options upfront, each supported with clear cost estimates so that you can make informed decisions about your pet's care.
- Informal and in-depth consultations. We'll always give you the time to ask questions and share your thoughts - after all, you know your pet best.
- Free nurse clinics, providing access to professional advice on a wide range of routine health care issues.
- Because we know that it can be a worrying time waiting for some test results, we have our own on-site laboratory for same-day testing.
- Ambulance service - if you are unable to bring your pet in or collect after surgery, we will arrange everything for you.
- We hold open evenings throughout the year where you can meet the team and have a look behind the scenes.
